

The Souphaphone Guesthouse in Vientiane, Laos is centrally located a block from the Mekong Riverfront. It is within walking distance to the city's dining and shopping area, including ancient temples and a museum, a few minutes walk to the Mekong River where Night Market and also both local and western restaurants and bars are located.